Our Story

Tealthy was founded in 2022 by first-generation entrepreneurs with a clear vision — to build a trusted food brand grounded in quality, transparency, and strong agricultural roots. Our journey begins at the source. With a modern food processing facility in Uttarakhand, supported by advanced farming operations, we bring together cultivation, farming, and food processing within one integrated ecosystem. This approach allows us to maintain complete control over quality, freshness, and traceability — from farm to final pack.

At Tealthy, we believe great food starts with responsible growing. We don't just sell food — we grow it. Our mission is to deliver nutritious, dependable, and thoughtfully produced food that people can trust every day.

Certifications & Quality Standards

Quality and food safety are at the core of everything we do at Tealthy. Our facility is certified by FSSAI and FSSC 22000, ensuring full compliance with globally recognized food safety and hygiene standards. From sourcing and processing to packaging and distribution, every stage of our operations is carefully monitored and managed through strict quality control systems.

Our Sister Companies

Dedicated to premium button mushroom cultivation using advanced, climate controlled environments. Our farms produce 4-5 tons daily, ensuring exceptional freshness hygiene, and a consistent year-round supply for domestic and international markets.

Our farming operations include one of the largest polyhouse setups in North India, specializing in high-quality produce such as exotic bell peppers and seedless cucumbers. These advanced polyhouse systems create controlled growing environments that ensure superior quality, optimal yield, and consistent harvests throughout the year.
